

REV. DR. TANYA LINN BENNETT

LEADER/MEMBER

PERSONAL PROFILE

Reverend Dr. Tanya Linn Bennett serves as an Officer for the New Jersey Coalition of Religious Leaders.

CONTACT

 36 Madison Ave,
Madison NJ 07940

 tbennett@drew.edu

 973-408-3718

 tabennett

EDUCATION

Rev. Dr. Bennett graduated from Allegheny College with a BA in Communications, and from the Theological School at Drew with her M.Div. and Ph.D.

PROFESSIONAL PROFILE

An ordained elder in the United Methodist Church, Rev. Dr. Tanya Linn Bennett serves as Associate Dean for Vocation and Formation, Associate Professor in the Practice of Public Theology and Vocation, and University Chaplain at Drew University.

She is committed to creating education and experience to shape prophetic, professional religious leaders for the future of the church and the world, and is active in a variety of social justice movements focused on anti-racism and gender equity. She teaches in the areas of church and society, including urban ministry and asset-based community organizing, and spiritual and vocational formation..

Tanya's research interests include emerging adults and religion, urban community organizing and advocacy, liturgy for non-traditional worshipping communities, and feminist approaches to public theology.